

The course is addressed to those who wish to learn the structures of Romanian language which are specific for the B1 competency level, related to the Common European Framework of Reference. The level B1 is also called the threshold level or intermediate. The program can be used by those persons who have already been through the grammar structures of the A1-A2 level, for a better practice and consolidation of these through various exercises.

The lexical and grammar material is included in 18 units. The course is designed for 72 hours (covering 3 months in total) meaning 6-7 hours of studying per week. Each unit has 6 divisions: I. Listening; II. Vocabulary; III. Communication intentions; IV. Grammar; V. Reading; VI. Creative writing. There is 1 intermediate test and 1 final test that have to be accomplished.

At the end of the course the students will be able:

- to read written texts consciously and expressively;
- to understand the key information from the various radio and TV programs, concerning the daily subjects, or those of the personal or professional interest, if the pace of speaking is relatively slow and well articulated.
- to communicate clearly on the familiar or personal interest subjects;
- to use an adequate vocabulary on the familiar subjects, those of the personal ones, or those which describe the daily life (e.g. family, free time, traveling, work and news);
- to have short conversations in an official or familiar context;
- to write short and descriptive texts in a standard style.

We wish you luck!

Recommendations:

- Respect the accessing schedule of each unit - one unit per week. The accessing of more than one unit per week is welcome.
- Establish your most appropriate time of working.
- Learn gradually the grammar forms.
- Do all the tests on time.
- Consult the “Romanian language grammar in formulas and tables” (Gramatica limbii române în formule și tabele).
- Communicate with friends in Romanian.
- Use the new vocabulary in appropriate contexts.
